

The image shows a modern interior space with a prominent glass staircase on the left. The staircase has a white concrete structure and glass railings, with warm-toned wooden panels on the wall behind it featuring horizontal light strips. In the background, a large room with floor-to-ceiling glass walls and a wooden frame is visible. Inside this room, there is a dining area with wooden tables and chairs, a colorful abstract artwork, and a small wooden playhouse. To the right of the glass room, there is a lounge area with a dark sofa and armchairs. The ceiling is white with a grid of small circular lights. On the far right, a large window looks out onto a green outdoor area.
